Agenda 2024 : Good Future Making

New Energy Realities, Climate and UN SDGs: Some of our Urgencies, Realities and our Opportunities (for Good Future Making).

In this year, beyond COP28 and Halfway 2030, we would like to focus (in our outreach) on some key (present) Urgencies (Drivers of Change), realities and our opportunities - on Energy, Energy Transition, Climate (Mitigation) Actions, and the attainment of the UN SDGs.

We are now Halfway 2030- and after COP28 (and the Global Stock Take)- it is a good moment to look back over the first period of our organization for the arrangement of the change. In many ways, the year 2024 is an important year.

Not in the least for reasons of the 40 democracy super bowl- leadership elections<sup>1</sup> that are to shape the direction of our global politics, but also the continued test of our global institutions<sup>2</sup> and to see if our energy-economic architecture & system and the energy sector<sup>3</sup> - are truly able to mend the curve.

In our Agenda 2024- we highlight and focus on the following key aspects, and based on over a decade of practice experience and learnings:

See Agenda2024

5 Key Urgencies ( Drivers of Change)

The Direction of our Human Development

Strength of our Underground

Planetary Boundaries and our Relationship with Nature

COP28 Dubai “Action Builds Hope“

Negotiated Text

EFOW early statements and observations- on “ this and that “ :

Geo-Politics of Emotions

“ Two Schools” and “ Two Systems”

Our Opportunities in Agenda2024- and to allow some Good Future Making.

Fossil Fuels: Make Room for the New- allow for the Great Electrification.

Trade and Trade Relations

Scale and Speed: Horizontal and Vertical Integration of the New Power Grids

Reforms

AGENDA2024: Let us focus on some Good Future Making

Agenda 2024 “ Good Future Making”

“In the beginner’s mind there are many possibilities, but in the expert’s there are few.”- Shunryu Suzuki (1905-1971)

1. Capacity Building and Outreach- Energy, UN SDGs, Paris Climate Agreement

In very simple terms- one could state that we –the energy sector- and over the coming 10-30 years have the following three and common goals:

- Support the UN Sustainable Development Goals.
- Implement the Paris Agreement.
- Build Sustainable Societies

and whereby Energy is further closely linked to the Geo-politics of Emotions, Security and not the least our Economies and Societies.

How can we best alter and/or support the present international working approach and policies towards Energy, Climate Change and the UN SDGs-, and whereby our goal is to realize :

Energy and Economies Free of Concerns. Here and There. Now and tomorrow?

The invitation is see with open (beginners) minds, to find “the better tone of voice”, the better organisational “forms and formats- the better bridges” and “perhaps more simpler and direct ways to define and drive change” and by which we can integrate corporate, national and civic interests, formulate the (energy-economy) change programs- that makes some common sense. Perhaps, and at times, re-engineer the present “institutionalized modes of operandi” in the sector and into our ministries: to support a true step-change and transit towards new energy architectures- locally, regionally and internationally.

Based on now 10 year practice experience, and from executive classrooms , conferences , to ministries and companies boardrooms- in the East and in the West, the North and South:

Let us rise to our occasion!

2. Consultancy, Coach and Care:

- on Implementation and Strategic Choices- in Countries and in Companies on UN SDGs and INDCs.
- on Finding New balance and New opportunities in our Worldviews,- in politics, in our economies, social lifestyles and with nature.
- on Energy Transition ( re. e.g. The Great Electrification: Making Room for the New) : advancing our present working approaches towards the realization of (new) Energy Architectures that we seek.
- on building the Better Bridges in our trade and trade relations on New Energy Architecture, Climate Agreement and UN SDGs (Human Development, Economy and Nature Conservation)

Workshops, Outreach & Speaking Engagements)

Outreach

A contribution to the Sustainable Development/ Sustainable Energy/ Paris Agreement agenda

This open conversation support leaders and leadership teams to reflect on their role(s)- to build “the value case” for business and organizational change, and to see “clear and attractive opportunity pathways” forwards, whilst also helping to progress their position and relationships towards their organization, the stakeholder community, the wider world and themselves.

These new-styled open conversations re. workshops are fresh and specifically launched for the years 2019 and beyond- to help the business professionals, knowledge partners and decision makers to partner and operate in a responsible and responsive way across to the system change challenge and transformations that we need: delivering projects and programs befit to the Global Change Challenge, the UN SDGs and sustainable societies needs.

Listening Tours/ Audits & Reviews

“Listening tours”( or Audits & Reviews) can be a powerful tool and concept to allow a true and integral view on your present organization and approach towards the change agenda and realization of goals and objectives within your Country, Company and Organization. Based on years of experience in the field, our practice is well organized to team-up with you , and to provide you with a safe and secure environment for “a true independent, neutral – fresh and open-“listening tour”- on your present status. “Listening tours” (with selected staff inside and outwith your organization) are taken with all due care and respect for present leadership, stakeholders and staff. The results of “listening tours” can help you to see with new and fresh eyes to the invitations of change and the opportunities you have- and empower you beyond.

Leadership Coaching

Leadership over business and corporations, today— requires a new balancing act: attuning “corporate strategies, business innovation and organizational forms” with that of the “ dynamic context change” they are in, and the global planetary, community and sector responsibilities we may carry or see.

Leaders are requested to re-balance established business believes and performances with the new (societal) needs or demands “seen or experienced” in the economy, technology space, society or nature.

Our practice helps leaders and leadership teams to reflect on their role- and to see clear and attractive opportunity pathways forwards, define the better projects, achieve and improve on company or country goals- whilst also helping to progress their position and relationships towards their organization, the stakeholder community, the wider world and themselves.

We are organized to help leaders and organizations in their process of organizational and culture change.

Our practice is specifically focused on (business) leaders who aspire to lead by a more conscious, servant and more inclusive leadership form and benefit to the times we see ourselves in.

Framing

In this format we could organize joint-workshops with the various actors, experts and stakeholders relevant to its conception and process. A one or 2-day follow-up workshop could bring much enthusiasm, drive and spirit into raising the bar, and preparing the leaders of the community to connect and accept that change and opportunity is possible, achievable and a good step forwards. It can gain as such its role, function and position within your practice context and international community of customers. A combination of an Opportunity Framing<sup>[1]</sup> with more in-depth listening and visiting tour with relevant parties within and outside could be a great two-step approach in this situational setting.

Obviously- the first blueprints and plans (opportunity scope, etc.) for this will be used in this workshop for the community of leaders to work with and decide on.

(Executive) Action Teams

Our open practice has established relationships with the high-end senior representatives in academy, institutes and corporations<sup>[2]</sup> and engage(s) itself with experienced quality-elite personnel which can blend the global with the local, and which can help you to define your balance between society, economy and nature (sustainability). As such- we can orchestrate high-end, high-quality, independent consultancy teams – ‘expert and action teams’- with you – as an alternative to the established consulting practices. These action-teams – can help to scout, frame and realize fresh and relevant opportunities of change: within your organization, your customers and internationally.

Together we can staff dedicated working groups/ (executive) action-teams by experienced professionals from different industry groups, different sectors, different professional and cultural backgrounds and perspectives- and which can truly help you and your customer needs: from strategy to delivery.
